PERSONALITY TYPE

THE VISIONARY

You are an inspired innovator, motivated to find new solutions to intellectually challenging problems. You are curious and clever, and seek to comprehend the people, systems, and principles that surround you. Open-minded and unconventional, Visionaries want to analyse, understand, and influence other people.

STRENGTHS

Fearlessness - One of your greatest strengths and keys to success is your boldness in the face of challenges. You are not afraid to try and fail and try again, perhaps thousands of times; you don't conceive of it as a failure, merely another step along the path to success.

Innovation - In all things—products, procedures and systems—you know there is always a better way and with the right kind of thinking, you will get there.

Adaptability - You are generally a go-with-the-flow person. This isn't to say that you are particularly agreeable individuals, but that you are able to adapt to the circumstances and the problems that arise in life and work.

Confidence - Generally speaking, criticism and ostracism have very little effect on you. You are confident in your skills and talents and believe in the power of your ideas.

WEAKNESSES

Flightiness - That which is a strength can easily become a weakness and this is seen in your case, your idea-generating nature. Your fear of missing out can make it hard to commit to one idea or one path; you want to keep exploring and evaluating.

Impracticality - You have a chaotic air about you that can range from amusing to aggravating, especially to co-workers and spouses.

Breaking norms - Nonconformity, while it can be a positive trait, often gets you into trouble. Your entire approach to life is founded upon charting your own course, pushing the boundaries and doing things your way.

Procrastination - You are also known for your tendencies toward procrastination and poor time management.
