PERSONALITY TYPE

THE MASTERMIND

You are an analytical problem-solver, eager to improve systems and processes with your innovative ideas. You have a talent for seeing possibilities for improvement, whether at work, at home, or in yourself.

STRENGTHS

Strategy - You not only see the plan or course of action, you are ready and prepared with several back-ups depending on the various circumstances that could possibly arise.

Innovation - Though you may outwardly appear intractable, as a type you are actually quite receptive to and supportive of change and innovation, and this open approach helps to enhance your problem-solving savvy.

Determination - You are revered for their bravery and steadfastness in the face of challenge.

Willingness to Learn - You aren't only looking to change externals and other people, you are also diligently committed to working yourself.

WEAKNESSES

Superiority - Your prowess in the area of intellect, logic and reason is unarguable and definitely among your chief strengths, as is your confidence in their ideas. However, these strengths can turn into weaknesses when they morph into a superiority complex.

Emotional Distance - You are also known for your low EQ and unwillingness to engage the emotions—your own or others.

Perfectionism - While your meticulousness can be a strength, as in all things, too much of a strength can easily become a weakness, and for you, this natural fastidiousness quickly becomes perfectionism, and in this you can be quite fierce and painstaking.

Imbalance - You place a high priority on work and will be quite devoted to your professional life. But this comes at a price, namely in time that might be spent on family, other relationships and leisure.
