PERSONALITY TYPE

THE PROTECTOR

You are industrious caretakers, loyal to traditions and organizations. You are practical, compassionate, and caring, and are motivated to provide for others and protect them from the perils of life.

STRENGTHS

Practical - With a keen memory, an eagle's eye for observation and an absolute determination to account for every detail, you are a practical worker par excellence.

Hardworking - Intense and serious when a task needs to be completed, you are a super-competent go getter who brings a hard-nosed approach to their work that can sometimes seem excessive to others.

Supportive - You are the consummate helper; happy to share your time and energy with anyone who needs it and taking an empathetic approach to problems and goals.

True to their word - Values you hold dear are: honour, integrity, responsibility, loyalty and commitment.

WEAKNESSES

Resistant to change - You regard custom and tradition with the utmost respect and can become anxious with a world you see changing too fast and people who refuse to follow established standards.

Too altruistic - Loyalty is an admirable character trait to be sure; but it is a two-way street, and if the people we choose to trust prove to be dishonest or unreliable we must be prepared to walk away. Yet you struggle with letting go, and have a tendency to stay in it to the bitter end, convinced that this is the only honourable thing to do.

Take things personally - You are very private, bordering on the shy, and this does not always mesh well with more open, unpredictable personality types.

Overload themselves - You are known for your terrific work ethic, but over time this positive trait can transmute into workaholism and leave you so overloaded that you lose sight of everything else.
